SWEET PEPPER RANCH COWGIRL RETREAT, Sweet Pepper Ranch, Nampa, Idaho. Thursday, September 13 through Sunday, mid-morning, September 16. Featuring ranch riding, yoga, and meditation. Cowgirl Retreat is designed for committed women riders interested in improving riding/horsemanship skills and mind/body awareness. SPR Cowgirl Retreats will focus on ranch riding skills which can be performed by any breed horse. It emphasizes quality of movement, overall manners, and responsiveness while performing required maneuvers at a forward, working speed with light contact. Ranch riding is a fun way to break up training routines and offer new learning experiences for us and our horses. Focus on transitions, quality of gaits, and moving body parts with precision. By adding yoga and meditation to our Cowgirl Retreat, we invite attention to our own physical and mental well-being as well as with working our horses. Self-care for the body and the mind. No yoga or meditation experience necessary. $575, includes daily yoga and meditation, two hours daily of riding instruction plus lectures and evening equine related movie; meals will be low-gluten, low-dairy, and no red meat; pool, daily happy hour. Reduced tuition wavers available in exchange for KP duties. RV cost $30/day. Guest rooms available for two: $60/peron/day/double occupancy. Limited number of guest horses available. Stalls and hay available, $20/day/horse; maximum 8 participants. alayne@horsesforcleanwater.com or call: 206-909-0225

WILDFIRE HELP NEEDED:

ANGELS FOR MINIS: We have been asked to help Angels for Minis provide supplies and feed for livestock affected by the Lake County fire. They are in a desperate situation. Mary Stewart and her Angels will be going up there to deliver supplies. Please only donate items on this list:

Senior stable mix (really needed); Regular stable mix; Goat feed, Rabbit feed (really needed), Pig feed, Chicken feed, Gas cards, Monetary donations to purchase feed. They will have donation receipts so anyone that donates will get a donation receipt they can use on their taxes. Contact Mary at: AngelsForMinis@att.net or (925) 323-9352. Angelsforminis.com

HOLD YOUR HORSES LIVESTOCK EMERGENCY EVACUATION RESPONSE TEAM: We need the communities help! We have been receiving calls and messages for supplies. So many fires have affected ranchers and livestock owners. The demand is high and will be even higher in months to come. HYH not only Evacuates animals, but also brings supplies and feed when needed. You can help us help them!!! Current HYH wish list is simple for the moment. Supplies needed currently:

Grain, Fly spray, Halters and leads , Water buckets, Electrolytes, Salt blocks. We are not taking hay at this time as it takes up to much room in the trailers and we can have it delivered along with other items. Gift cards are good, they can be given to ranchers to buy what they need directly. We can also purchase supplies at a discount and in bulk, which makes it easier for us to fill out wish list by donating directly to HYH. Donations are tax deductible. Go to the Facebook page at: <https://www.facebook.com/HoldYourHorsesContraCosta/>

HORSES HEALING HEARTS, INC. is collecting monetary donations for feed & shavings. Everything is tracked we are working directly with Helen Stimpson Owen and thank Kevin Scarpete Trucking for delivering hay and shavings. The 3H Trailer was located here to assist with evacuations. There are a few ways to donate including a Facebook Fundraiser. VOLUNTEERS NEEDED:

IMMEDIATE NEED FOR VOLUNTEERS AND SUPPLIES – LAKE COUNTY: Donation Collection Center volunteers in Hidden Valley have been working non-stop for FIVE Days! They need some people with logistics experience, Big animal/livestock savvy, and some muscle to give them relief! If you can volunteer this is a great place to do it. They could also use a chance to go home, shower, sleep in their bed and charge back up to come back out and keep going. They're also in need of some supplies of their own. They've been working even when the A/C went out so if someone has fans or even portable evaporative coolers that would be amazing! But even a good fan or two would help! Also needed: Food supplies: -- Finger Foods (Sandwiches, Pre-packaged foods, etc) things they can eat while they work. -- WATER - bottled water -- Ice Chests and Ice -- Tarps and EasyUps to give them some shade. 17568 Arabian Lane #2, Hidden Valley Lake, CA (turn at 29 & Hartman, it is right before Putah Creek) Will is the amazing human coordinating on-site and can be reached at: 707-245-6072. If you would like to donate cash, you can go to OrphanDog.org and click the donate button, by mail to Orphan Dog, P.O. Box 662 Lakeport, CA 95453 or you can call Rainbow Ag at 707-279-0550. They are giving a generous discount on purchase for fire evacuees as well as very generous donations of supplies.

ICE PRODUCTS: SAFETY-FOCUSED EQUINE & CANINE GEAR. It is easy to attach ManeStay to the mane or tail. In the face of emergency, give your horse, mule or donkey the advantage of wearing highly visible identification so he can be returned to you as soon as danger has passed. It takes just 3 seconds and provides peace of mind. ManeStay is to be kept in your Ready Kit/Go Bag so that when faced with an emergency, you can quickly attach ManeStay to your equine and he'll take your contact information with him. It attaches in 3 seconds and weighs 1.8 ounces. $20 (will be $21 eff. 8/15/18). I.C.E. UltraLite requires a mane braid to be attached and weighs less than 3/4 ounce. It has multiple uses (for riding, high lining, camping, etc.) it is also appropriate for long-term use. During your area's season of natural disasters, keep an UltraLite in your horse's mane for the whole season. Just be diligent about checking the integrity of the braid, as well as the elastics. Re-braid and replace the elastics as needed to ensure the UltraLite will stay in place. Both products let first responders know at a glance whether the horse is microchipped. Knowing this info can save precious time spent scanning for a potentially nonexistent chip. ManeStay and I.C.E. UltraLite offer highly visible identification which is critically important in any emergency situation. Your emergency contact info is permanent and waterproof, protected by Velcro® closures. FROM HALTER – HORSE AND LIVESTOCK TEAM EMERGENCY RESPONSE:

ANIMAL IDENTIFICATION: Reunification of animals and people is often a big challenge for owners and agencies after evacuation. Make sure your animals have identification! Here are several ways to ID equines and livestock that are SAFE in fire situations. If your animal is not microchipped, try to use more than one type of ID. 1. MICROCHIPPING: Safest. Best. Most Foolproof. 2. I.C.E. ManeStay Tags if you have them. These are fast & easy to attach to mane. Have the ID info filled out ahead; stash the tags in your barn ready-kit 3. Write on hooves: use fat black marker or white chalk marker to write phone number on all hooves 4. Spray- paint phone number or a symbol on both sides of your animal. For example: big slash mark, or, big letters. When describing your animals, you can say “Bay gelding with left sock and orange “XO” on both sides. You get the idea! if you’re planning ahead, get Special livestock marking paint- it has a skinny nozzle for writing, so you don’t spray your entire mule hot pink; - Livestock crayons (grease markers) are good, too. Warm them up a bit so they’re easier to use. 5. A big splash or stripe is good in a rush. You can describe “sorrel gelding with pink stripe on rump.” 6. Braid a cattle tag into mane, with your name & phone number. Keep tags, markers, and braiding runnerbands in a Ziplocbag. 7. Take photos of animal: face and all markings. Include yourself in the photo, if possible. If you have time, write a clear sign with YOUR NAME & CONTACTS, Animal ID info to hold in the photo.

EVACUATION REMINDERS: ID your PROPERTY ENTRANCE! Use spray paint, rocks, metal signs- anything that won’t burn or wash away. Don’t forget to add OUT OF AREA CONTACTS to your emergency numbers. If animals do not load in trailers, please do not request evacuation help. This puts everyone in danger, including animals! Instead, leave in best conditions possible: Lots of water, as far as possible from flammable materials like shavings, hay, empty shavings and and/or grain bags, wood. If you have to leave your animals: call the emergency number for your local animal services agency. Provide clear location details and situation information. Ask for a “Welfare Check”.

LETTERS REQUESTED: East Bay Regional Park District has created a Draft Land Use Plan Amendment for Sibley Volcanic Regional Preserve, (near Orinda at the Caldecott Tunnel.) According to the plan, there will be a new camping area in the McCosker Ranch section of the park, which will be connected by new trails to both Huckleberry and Sibley. The new West Hills area of the park, near Orinda, will be open with new trails and horse trailer parking. This plan will connect trails of the East Bay with the Bay Area Ridge Trail and further connections reaching from Chabot in Hayward, to Tilden Park in Berkeley. The plan is likely to go to the EBRPD Board for approval in September and the board is accepting public comments until August 20. At present the plan has no equestrian parking slated for the new McCosker Ranch section of the park, despite it being a logical place for equestrian parking. Logical because historically, the property was known for many years as a ranch, and because it is immediately adjacent to the Moraga Horsemen’s Association, which is located just down the road in Moraga. Please help by addressing letters to Beverly Lane, President, EBPRD Board of Directors at: blane@ebparks.org requesting the addition of equestrian parking to the new McCosker Ranch Parcel.
